

The Cue For The Band

(Words and music by Joshua Starmer, copyright 2015)

Vs1.

Wallflower standing at the back of the room

Amin Dmin C G

My hands are sweating, I can smell your perfume

Amin Dmin C G

I try to plan my, plan my next move

Amin Dmin C G

I hope it's one you will, you will approve

Amin Dmin C G

Chorus1

I check my cuffs

F G

I straighten my tie

I survey the floor

Dmin

It's empty right now

F G

They're all back by the bar

C

I can see from the door

Dmin

You, you take my hand

F G

as you get up to stand.

C

That's the cue for the band.

F

Vs2

But just wait, that was all in my head

The thought of asking, makes my cheeks turn red

I wish I was braver, more of a man

I'll do my best though, I'll do what I can

Chorus2

I catch your bright blue eyes
And I see your faint smile
I'm so glad I came

It takes me two short steps
I'm standing right by your side
A spotlight takes aim

You, you take my hand
as you get up to stand.
That's the cue for the band.

Vs3

This must be, this must be my dreams
It can't real, it can't be what it seems
Or maybe I'm wrong, and this is our night
I could get used to this, 'cause it feels so right.

Chorus3

They're just standing around
Nervous whispers on stage
They're waiting for me

Your hair in long dark curls
Your dress flows all about
You're all I can see

You, you take my hand
as you get up to stand.
That's the cue for the band.

Chorus4

I'm triple checking my cuffs
Then I straighten my tie
I survey the floor

It's empty right now
They're all back by the bar
I can see from the door

You, you take my hand

as you get up to stand.
That's the cue for the band.
