

A New Song

(Words and music by Joshua Starmer, copyright 2017)

V1

Does she remember when | they first met

A

B

The ground was wet | the sky was dark and grey

F#min

C#min

Ankle boots with a | long dress

A rubber band | wrapped around her wrist

She hummed a tune and he | fell in love

Fell to quickly | He remembers that day

Instrumental

2x [C#min

E

V2

A long walk on a | forest trail

Hand in hand | they sang as one

He brushed a strand of hair | from her face

Touched her lips | raindrops kissed the leaves

He took a step back | looked in her eyes

She smiled at him | He remembers that day.

Chorus

Underneath a sheltering sky you learned a new song

C#min

In the blink of an eye you had to move on

Vs3

Deep wounds take | time to heal

He has a scar | he keeps it out of view

Sometimes he tries | to trick himself

Other times | he knows he sings alone

When it rains he | starts to cry

He fell too hard | He remembers that day

Chorus

Underneath a sheltering sky you learned a new song

And in the blink of an eye you had to move on

Looking back on your life, you said it seemed so long

Watch a full moon rise, you counted all wrong.

Chorus/Last Chords: E/G# B
